HALLETT SYSTEM DELIVERS SAFE WATER AT N.Y. PILOT TRAVEL CENTRE

The AquaSource Group Inc. counts on Hallett for its Pilot Travel Centre client.

Pilot Travel Centre needed a water purification system for one of its New York state locations. Since the site is considered a public water supply, the health department required a system which meets regulatory standards.

The system needed to deliver 50 gals/min from two on-site wells. To meet the flow rate requirement, AquaSource installed and commissioned a system with 2 Hallett 30's in parallel with an extra Hallett 30 on stand-by, to meet the health department's requirement for system redundancy.

"The beauty of the Hallett system for public water applications is that we can easily and cost-effectively achieve the redundancy requirement for the health department. We simply added the extra Hallett system, leaving it plumbed in but unplugged and valved-off. The system is working perfectly now, but if there is a problem down the line, and we need to take one of the two operating systems offline, we can quickly do a manual swap with no system down-time." — Mark Messana, Vice President of Water Systems, The AquaSource Group Inc.

In fact, hundreds of municipal and regulated commercial/industrial applications prove that multiple Halletts are far more cost effective than competing alternatives due to efficient redundancy factors. In one case, twenty Hallett 30's provide treatment to maximum flow requirements, and ONE additional Hallett 30 meets the redundancy needs.
